

AKM MUSIC

Terms of Media Licence

The original purchaser of AKM Music may use the music as part of their productions allowing dubbing onto a soundtrack. A track may be used as many times as the producer likes without incurring any further MCPS fees. Permission has been given by the copyright holder for the purchaser to synch the music to a DVD production/ trailer/ commercial/ TV production/film release and theatre work. This licence allows broadcast worldwide without incurring any further dubbing fees. The licence also covers podcasting and webcasts including YouTube without having to pay any other fees. This right is non transferable and only the original purchaser may have the right to use the music. Usage also covers music on hold systems.

The track can be shortened or extended without further permission.

This covers full commercial use and UNLIMITED duplication of a video/DVD production using our music made by the purchaser. The DVD can be sold worldwide.
